

The Snow, The Snow, The Beautiful Snow Can Do No Wrong — Oh, Yea!

DIGGING OUT — A shovel came in handy for G. Beckmann, of Riverside, N. J. His car, angled rakishly, was finally out parallel to the curb. But only after plenty of muscle work. The scene was repeated endlessly in Bristol. A COMMON sight in local gas stations was the Bristol motorist stocking up on his anti-freeze. Here an attendant at Nick and Joe's Service Station, 641 Beaver street, replenishes a driver's supply. IT WASN'T SO BAD — Loretta M. Palermo, 1426 Farragut avenue, cleans some of the area's heavy snowfall from the windshield. Traffic moved — when it moved at all — through blinding gusts of powdery snow.

7 Persons Injured In Traffic Crashes Figure Called Low

Korea Aid Drive Gets Under Way; Centers Set Up

Seven persons were injured in a series of automobile accidents in the area over the weekend. Some of the mishaps were attributed to snow and ice conditions. However, police said there were fewer accidents than might have been expected.

A Philadelphia man suffered a fractured skull and broken ribs and two other persons were injured at 5:15 p.m. yesterday in a head-on automobile accident at U.S. Route 1 and Janney road.

Police Chief Howard Shook identified the injured persons as Steven Pickering, of 2125 S. Second street, Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. Gaetano Perillo, of 2547 West Oakdale street, Philadelphia. Pickering was admitted to Nazareth Hospital with a fractured skull and possible broken ribs. Perillo was treated for a forehead laceration, his wife, Elizabeth, suffered lacerations of both legs.

Rushed To Hospital
The three injured persons were rushed to the hospital by the Bucks County Rescue Squad.

Chief Shook said Perillo was driving west on Route 1 and made a left hand turn into a one-way street at Janney, where he collided head-on with a two and one-half ton truck driven by William J. Miller, of 346 Sycamore street, Rahway, N.J. Miller was uninjured.

Damage to Perillo's car was estimated at $800, and damage to the truck was set at $200.

Will Get Summons
Perillo will receive a summons for reckless driving, Chief Shook said.

A car driven by James Gaillard, 27, of Charleston, S.C., went into a spin after hitting an icy spot on Route 1 at Route 413A last midnight. It crashed broadside into the front of a car operated by John J. Connor, 46, of 6319 Limekiln pike, Philadelphia, Chief Shook said.

Neither motorist was injured.

Cold Plunge

DRIVERLESS GRAY FORD believed by Falls Township police to be stolen was fished out of six feet of water in Van Sciver lake below a 30-foot embankment near Bordentown late yesterday afternoon. Police Chief Franklin Kirby said the car had been stripped of its license plate, radio and other accessories. Apparently the motor of the vehicle had been started and it had been allowed to make its plunge.

12 Inches to Fall, Weatherman Says

Civic Association To Air Pay Raise In Bristol Twp.

Traffic was at a virtual standstill, schools closed, and production late in starting in area manufacturing plants as the result of a blizzard that enveloped Lower Bucks County today. The rising blanket of snow was predicted to reach as high as 12 inches by tonight, with snow, sleet and cold expected to continue through the night.

The snow, which increased in intensity throughout last night, brought the mercury down to 10 degrees, while winds piled drifts up as high as three feet.

Road Impassable
Stalled cars, frustrated motorists and late workers were the results of impassable road conditions. James C. Worthington, superintendent of the Doylestown Maintenance Branch of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways, said that traffic and road conditions look "very bad." Motorists were advised by Worthington to stay home.

Worthington reported that more than 200 men have been battling all day to keep highways open, with relatively little success. Teams of men started at 3 p.m. yesterday to clear the highways, 107 men plowing and 103 spreading cinders. Fifty-one trucks were used for plowing and 24 trucks for cinder-spreading dangerous grades and intersections.

"All the area needs to be snowed in is about 10 or 12 inches of snow," Worthington stated, "and that's what we have." He added that the 30-mile winds and sub-zero temperatures have complicated road conditions. "The snow is light, but is constantly blowing and drifting," he said.

Philadelphia Road Clear
The maintenance supervisors stated that the road from Doylestown to Philadelphia has been kept relatively clear, but that the road from Doylestown to Easton is "treacherous."

Chief Howard C. Shook and Patrolman Joseph Zalot of Middletown Township police report that more than 300 cars were stalled in a "terrible" tie-up on Janney Hill, U. S. Route 1, yesterday between 7:15 and 9 p.m. Shook reported that it took four tow trucks to clear up the jam. In addition, many motorists were forced to push the car ahead of them up the hill.

Shook said that some drivers gave up in disgust and returned to Fennel, switching to Routes 413 and 13 in order to get to Philadelphia. Shook said that traffic is still moving today, but is very slow.

State police said that traffic is moving slowly on Lower Bucks roads with cars left abandoned on Oxford Valley road between Fairless Hills and Levittown. Additional patrol cars were put on duty last night, and will be used until the emergency has abated.

No Accidents Yet
Bensalem Township police state that traffic is moving in the township at a snail's pace, but that no accidents have been reported. Continued on Page Two

Leaders Set Tour Of Fairless Plant To Start Monday

Next Monday has been set as the date for a goodwill visit to the U. S. Steel Fairless Works by Presidents Benjamin F. Fairless, of U. S. Steel and David J. McDonald, of the CIO United Steelworkers of America.

The company and union heads will interview plant personnel on a personal basis, they announced in a joint statement today, stating that the "basis for good relations is to be found in the sincere effort to iron out differences on the local union-management level before they mushroom into major problems which cause friction and bitterness."

The visit here will be one stop on a tour of 12 cities by the two officials. Tomorrow and Wednesday, Fairless and McDonald are visiting Birmingham, Ala.

The tour was arranged in White House conferences that ended the 1952 steel strike. The death of CIO president Philip Murray, however, delayed arrangements. The U. S. Steel and United Steelworkers president are accompanied by aides and staff members.

Middletown's School Program Underway

An architectural firm has been authorized to draft preliminary plans for the first elementary school in the Levittown tract of Middletown township, Charles Tetlow, president of the Middletown Township School Board has announced.

The State Building Authority's approval of construction of the $708,000 school has set into motion the drawing up of the plans for elementary school, to be located on a 19½-acre tract south of Trenton avenue near Route 413, Tetlow said.

30 Year Lease
Tetlow said that the school, which will have from 14 to 20 rooms, will be built by the State Authority and leased to the school board for approximately $38,000 per year for a 30-year period. Architects have been instructed to complete the preliminary plans by Feb. 1, for submission to the State Authority. Final plans are requested by April 15, when the Authority will let bids.

Additional school board plans include a survey of kindergarten needs in Middletown township, Tetlow said. Classroom space for kindergartens is available in the Langhorne and Parkland elementary schools and can be ready for the coming fall term, he said.

Space Available
Since the opening of the new $2,000,000 high school on Old Bristol Pike, the former high school on Cherry street has been converted into an elementary school, making classroom space available for kindergartens in the other two elementary schools, Tetlow said.

A regular meeting date has been scheduled by the school board. It will hold open meetings on the third Monday of each month at the new high school.

Police Discover Abandoned Auto In Lake Waters

A 1952 gray Ford was found upside down in about five feet of water at Van Sciver lake near Bordentown road yesterday about 3 p.m., Falls Township police reported.

Chief Franklin Kirby said he believed the vehicle was stolen. It had been stripped of a radio, license plate and other accessories.

The police chief said the thieves apparently started the motor of the vehicle, jumped out and allowed it to descend driverless down a 30-foot embankment.

Falls Township police almost captured a car thief last Friday on Penn Valley road in Fallsington. Patrolmen Joseph Kish pursued a speeder about 10 p.m. The fleeing car came to a stop and its driver leaped out and escaped.

The vehicle owned by Mrs. Margaret Rolinski of Trenton had been reported stolen two hours earlier in Philadelphia, police said.

Council to Award Water, Fire Bids

Bids will be awarded tonight for new fire apparatus and for a new well in the Delaware river basin, at the meeting of Bristol Borough Council, according to John Gallagher, council president.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building. Committee appointments for the seven council committees will also be made.

Postmen Increase Dystrophy Fund By Over 3 Million

The Muscular Dystrophy Association of America announced today that the nation's letter carriers in an after-work canvass of homes, had collected $3,342,950 to fight the disease.

Bristol Assistant Postmaster John C. Boyle said the campaign was the best yet in which funds were addressed in care of postmasters.

Boyle said his office had no record of the amount of money the local carriers collected since contributions came in a flood.

William Mazer, president of the Muscular Dystrophy Association, said contributions were still coming in, with the association raising the largest sum of money it ever raised. He said 100,000 letter carriers took part.

YMCA Talk Listed By Kiwanis Club

A speaker from the Lower Bucks County YMCA will address the Kiwanis Club of Bucks County Lincoln Highway at tomorrow night's meeting.

The YMCA talk will follow a dinner meeting at 7 p.m. at Flannery's Restaurant in Pennel.

Robert Pearson of the Bucks County Planning Commission will be the speaker at the Jan. 19 meeting.

Robinson To Stay As Civil Service Commission Chief

Robert Robinson will remain as chairman of the three-man Bristol Township Civil Service Commission, it was announced following the commission's reorganizational meeting Saturday.

Clayton Battifoll was reappointed to the post of commission secretary at the meeting at Emilie police headquarters. Albert H. Rogers, township commissioner, is the third member of the board.

The board will meet again on Saturday, Jan. 23, at 2 p.m. at the Emilie headquarters.

Robinson said the commission is standing by for word from the police committee of the township commissioners. He pointed out that recommendations for the addition to the township police force must come to the commission from the committee, before any action can be taken.

35 On School Bus Are Shaken Up In Rt. 413 Crash

The collision of a Bristol township school bus with a truck on Route 413 at noon Friday shook up 35 Maple Shade School pupils, but no injuries were reported.

Bristol township police said the bus was sideswiped as it turned left into Belardleyville, near Delhaas High School. The bus was operated by Samuel Coates, 45, of Broadway and Adams avenue, West Bristol. Bristol township police said. The truck driver was identified as John Johnson, 18, of Bonitz street near Wayne avenue, Philadelphia.

Both vehicles were going north on Route 413, police said, when the bus began the turn. Johnson, was attempting to pass the bus on the left when they crashed, according to police.

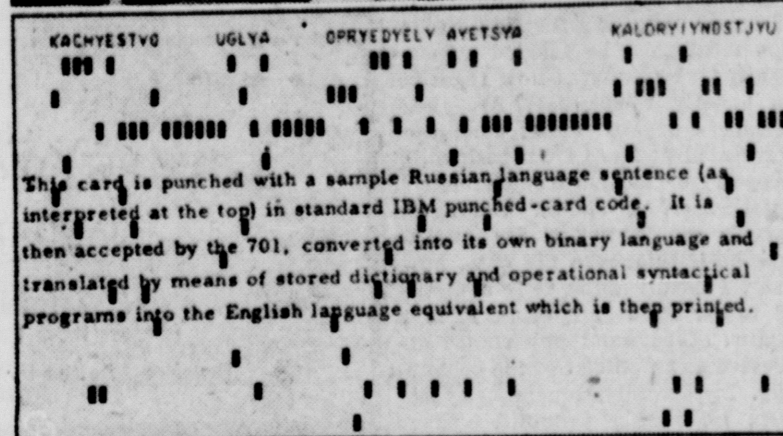

Damage was estimated by Officer William Jayne at $250 to each vehicle. A window and the rear-view mirror of the bus were broken, he said.

Johnson will bet a summons for reckless driving.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By Fulton Lewis, Jr.
(Copyright, 1953,
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11—Ferdinand Smith, former CIO official who was virtually deported from the United States, is emerging as another prime example of how international Communism moves its personnel from place to place in pawn-like fashion.

Onetime member of the executive board of the CIO and secretary of its National Maritime Union, Smith now turns up as the organizer and key figure of a new Communist labor movement in the British West Indies island of Jamaica, his homeland.

Communists already control the government of Guatemala, threaten British Guiana, and possess substantial influence in several other Latin American countries. Thus it behooves us to permit another Communist seanker to develop in our own Caribbean back-yard without at least passing notice. Nor does it so behoove the British, either.

Information seeping back to Washington intelligence agencies is that Smith's activity is but one phase of a burgeoning Communist campaign to infiltrate the Antilles Islands, particularly French-owned Martinique and Guadeloupe in addition to Jamaica.

This campaign, incidentally, is developing an unusual chain of Communist command, according to intelligence reports. Under it, Smith and his fellow Jamaicans take orders from, and report to, British Communist headquarters in London, while activities in French-speaking Martinique and Guadeloupe are directed from Paris. Orders from Moscow apparently are relayed through these capitals, rather than sent directly from the central Communist headquarters to the islands.

Smith's campaign on Jamaica does not appear to be meeting with too much immediate success as far as the labor union itself is concerned. Known as the Jamaica Federation of Trade Unions, it has not scored any notable achievement in wooing members from the two established Jamaican labor unions, both of which definitely are anti-Communist. However, pro-Communism is growing generally in the island and is becoming a matter of concern to authorities.

Smith's new role makes him a highly interesting case history. The first Negro to reach national office in a major labor union in the United States, he began hitting the headlines in 1947 on the basis of reports of his Communist connections. He was arrested in February, 1948, for deportation as an alien Communist.

As secretary of the NMU, he had been diligent in carrying out orders from Red headquarters. In 1947, for example, he performed two major jobs for the Communists: First, at a June meeting of the CIO Executive Committee, he and West Coast longshoremen's boss Harry Bridges fought in vain for a general strike throughout the country in protest against enactment of the Taft-Hartley Law;

UN Asked To Call Assembly To Study Korean Problems

NEW DELHI—INS—India today formally requested Mme. V. L. Pandit, president of the United States General Assembly, to reconvene the assembly at an early date to consider the Korean problem.

India asked for an assembly session to begin "at a reasonable time prior to the dissolution" of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Reports from New Delhi Sunday said the Indians would like to have the assembly meet on Feb. 8 or 9.

Calls It Urgent

The formal request said the breakdown of the preliminary Korean peace talks and the consequent halting of progress toward a settlement of the Korean question made an assembly session an urgent matter.

Mme. Pandit, who is in New Delhi now, is expected to make a statement on the request within a day or two.

The wording of the request indicated that India wants the assembly called into session for a broader purpose than discussion of the troubles now besetting the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission.

Middle of Row

The commission at present is in the middle of a bitter controversy between the Allied and Communist commands over the release of unrepatriated war prisoners.

The Communists want the prisoners held, but the Allies are grimly determined to have them released on Jan. 23, the date set by the Korean armistice agreement.

The controversy has led to a barrage of charges from the Communist side and a warning from the Allies that any Communist effort to halt the release of the prisoners will be met by U. S. combat troops.

BREAD GAIN OUTPUT IS 255 MILLION TONS

WASHINGTON (INS)—The latest Agriculture Department survey on world bread grain production for 1953-54 estimates total output at 255 million tons.

This should be the second largest crop in history. The largest was last year's which totaled 263 million tons of wheat and rye combined.

The latest report confirms earlier estimates by the Foreign Agricultural Service.

DRIVERS' LICENSES

HARRISBURG—INS—The State High Safety Bureau today reported withdrawal of driving privileges from 1024 persons during the week ended Dec. 31. The list embraced 936 suspensions and 88 revocations.

The bureau restored drivers' licenses to 662 persons during the week.

Dusting Off The News

If Bristol township officials start counting noses to find out just what the population is, they'll probably find some of the people around the Beaver Dam dump site holding theirs.

Five hundred people turned out Friday for the zoning meeting in Falls township. This was the best night for baby slitters since the juke box was invented and drove people out of taverns.

In Driver's Seat

TO THE EDITOR: In behalf of myself and my family (and perhaps a good many other Levittown residents), I would like to express my feelings regarding the proposed zoning ordinances by Falls Township.

I would not say these officials are not legally capable of enacting such ordinances but I will say I believe they are not capable of conducting the affairs of a fast growing community since they do not regard future growth an important aspect of this area. True, industrial sites are necessary for employment but must they be located so conveniently to the area now regarded as strictly residential? Are these members of the zoning committee interested in taxes from residential property or income from industrial enterprises? I should think the former would net a far greater income if this were the case, however, I hardly think it is a matter of taxes. Rather, I think it is a matter of personal importance expressed as an official of the community. Incidentally, I personally believe all zoning committees have too much unrestricted authority.

I firmly believe these officials are content with the idea that they are in the "driver's seat" and intend to drive their unadapted vehicle into a ditch and tie up the traffic called progress.

To express my feelings more simply, it is like the farmer who throws corn to his chickens so that they might grow and net him a very excellent market price. The farmer, however, cannot wait until that day so he sells not some but all of his chickens to the highest bidder.

It is most unfortunate that Levittown is located in more than one township—I've heard too many cooks spoil the soup. Why can't there be some central control over such areas that operate for the Bride and 'Groom Leave For Honeymoon at Miami, Florida

A young couple wed yesterday afternoon at the hour of two are participating in a trip to Miami, Florida.

Miss Lucy A. Liszewski daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Liszewski, Lynne Haven, Bristol Twp., became the bride of Mrs. James Thomas Lynch, son of Mrs. Christine Lynch, Sunset avenue, Newportville, in St. Valentine's Church, Phila.

The Rev. Edward Tomczek performed the ceremony. Mr. Leon Bonkowski, Phila., presided at the organ, playing "The Lord's Prayer," "Because" and other selections.

Four attendants of the bride included Miss Mildred Liszewski, Bristol township, sister of the bride, as maid of honor; and the following bridesmaids: Miss Mary Kaytor, Langhorne; Mrs. John Liszewski, Bath road, sister-in-law of the bride; and Mrs. Daniel Davis, Hulmeville.

Miss Liszewski wore a rose tone gown, Miss Kaytor, Mrs. Liszewski and Mrs. Davis each wearing a green. The strapless gowns were fashioned with long length. They had removable bolero jackets. The gowns were of nylon net over chrompium taffeta with embroidered midriff.

The bridegroom's attendants were Mr. John Lynch, 1352 Maple ave., Croydon, brother of the bridegroom, best man. Ushers were Mr. John Liszewski, Bath Rd., brother of the bride, Mr. John Kish, Croydon and Mrs. Daniel Davis, Hulmeville.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of imported Chantilly lace with a wing collar, bodice of chantilly lace over satin, full skirt of scalloped Chantilly lace ending with a pleated tulle ruffle encircling the train of satin. The fingertip veil of nylon tulle was attached to a cap of imported Chantilly lace outlined in tiny seed pearls sprinkled with oak pearls.

For a honeymoon trip, the former Miss Liszewski wore a coral knitted suit, and black velvet accessories.

For the ceremony, the bride's mother chose a pink lace dress over taffeta, and black accessories. Mrs. Lynch selected a navy blue dress and navy accessories. Each wore an orchid corsage.

The couple plans to reside at the Liszewski home.

Mr. Lynch served 3 1/2 years with the U. S. Navy, most of which time was spent in Boston, Mass. He served some time at Iceland and Greenland.

Prayer to the Blessed Virgin Mary
Enraptured by the splendor of your Heavenly beauty, and impelled by the anxieties of the world, we cast ourselves into your arms, O Immaculate Mother of Jesus and our Mother, Mary, confident of finding in your most loving heart appeasement of our ardent desires, and a safe harbor from the tempests which beset us on every side.

Though degraded by our faults and overwhelmed by infinite misery, we admire and praise the peerless richness of sublime gifts with which God has filled you, above every other mere creature, from the first moment of your Conception until the day on which, after your Assumption into Heaven, He crowned you Queen of the Universe.

O crystal fountain of Faith, bathe our minds with the eternal truths!

O fragrant lily of all holiness, captivate our hearts with your heavenly perfume!

O conqueress of evil and death, inspire in us a deep horror of sin which makes the soul detestable to God and a slave to hell!

O well-beloved of God, hear the ardent cry which rises up from every heart in this year dedicated to you.

Bend tenderly over our aching wounds. Convert the wicked, dry the tears of the afflicted and oppressed, comfort the poor and humble, quench hatreds, sweeten harshness, safeguard the flower of purity in youth, protect the holy Church, make all men feel the attraction of Christian goodness.

In your name, resounding harmoniously in Heaven, may they recognize that they are brothers, and that the nations are members of one family, upon which may there shine forth the sun of a universal and sincere peace.

Receive, O most sweet Mother, our humble supplications, and above all obtain for us that, one day, happy with you, we may repeat before your throne that hymn which today is sung on earth around your altars: You are all beautiful, O Mary! You are the glory, you are the joy, you are the honor of our people! Amen.

People, Places & Things

By CAROL M. GABLER

Worst Pun of the Day Department: In the book trade, the new Kinsey Report on Women is affectionately known as "The She Around Us."

The Hot Rod Set:

According to Mrs. Jack Benson, secretary of the Maple Shade-West Bristol Community Association, the only way teenagers can get to recreation somewhere in the area is to drive there. Nothing is nearby, and a bus route does not go through West Bristol. "They have to drive, so they get hot rods," Mrs. Benson said.

That perhaps, is the reason teenagers get hot rods in the first place, but what they do with them after they get them also stems from the lack of recreational facilities. For hot rod racing is a form of "excitement" to the teenager with nothing better to do.

In excerpts from a letter received by this column today from a concerned resident the danger of such a situation is clearly outlined:

"Where was your son . . . at 11:30 p.m.? Did he have the family car out or was it his own 'zooped' up green Buick or little black Ford, or any other make of hot rod? Was it your son on Route 413 holding races from the new Esso station down on past Delhaas High School, endangering not only his own life, but that of the innocent traveler?"

"...surely death is riding right beside the hot rod driver, just waiting to add another young life to his already long list. Stop and think, parents, could it have been your son and could death count on him as its next victim! Parents, stop and think."

All Wet:

Just to keep in the swim of things, the latest fashion news says that swim suits for '54 will be higher in the front, lower in the back, and prettier all around.

The backs will be plunged in V-shape, some as low as 18 inches. Seems as if the suit makers are slightly mixed up too, along with every one else. Our prediction is that there's going to be a lot of unhappy men around the beaches.

'Dad' To Hold Meeting

The Delhaas Father's Association will hold its monthly meeting tomorrow night at 7:30 p. m. at the high school. All male residents of the Bristol township school district are invited to attend.

this summer, with bathing suits taking a dip in the back.

What's Cookin'?

When you say, "his goose is cooked," you mean he's through, finished, out of luck—and it's meant this since Medieval times, too.

When one inventive town was besieged, back in the good old Middle Ages when battles were fought on such a limited scale, the besieged town is said to have hung a goose as a sign of derision and defiance over its battlements.

But he who laughs, laughs, as another saying goes: the infuriated enemy, which couldn't take a joke, burned down the town—thus effectively, and permanently, "cooking the townspeople's goose".

Here 'n' There:

Gilbert Barksy, 68 Emerald lane, Levittown, recently elected chairman of the Board of Directors of the Levittown Junior Chamber of Commerce, and Martin Barksy, 2 Thorny Apple lane, elected president, are not related. It seems the two just have the same last name, plus a common interest in the local chamber.

America's Heritage

At times, we might ponder why kids fail to heed. We worry and wonder if they will succeed. The past gives the answer—it proves a great truth. Our country's salvation depends on our youth. The deeds, boys accomplished, when called on to fight, give added assurance that we'll do all right.

If you want added assurance that your oil burner will give peak performance, have it checked and serviced by an expert. Only a clean unit can give clean, economical heat. BLUE BABY IS NOW IN THE PINK

SIX-MONTH-OLD Kathy Oglethorpe, youngest blue baby ever to undergo the corrective surgery required in such cases, is rapidly recovering from her heart operation at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Oglethorpe, pay a visit to the child, whose case attracted wide medical attention. (International Soundphoto)

Jack L. Habel, of Frackville, operating a new device designed to locate breaks in aerial telephone cable sheathing. This is an example of our constant search for the best way to do a job, a search that insures fast, dependable telephone service.

There's always a best way!

Given a job to do, telephone people sooner or later come up with a faster, more efficient way to do it. For that reason, new devices like this one are constantly being tested.

If it measures up, the new equipment becomes standard. And to measure up, it must satisfactorily meet the test of these two questions:

1. Will it improve the quality of telephone service?
2. Will it help keep costs under control?

Tough requirements? Of course! But every device, every piece of equipment behind your telephone has passed with flying colors. This rigid standard is one reason telephone service continues to improve in value, remains low in cost.

ELIZABETH WOODWARD SAYS:

You're His Steady So Why Worry?

"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I've been going steady with a boy who goes to my school for nearly three months now, but he doesn't pay any attention to me around school. I've tried to talk to him and find out why, but he just laughs and won't get serious about it. I like him an awful lot and would hate to break up with him, but what else can I do?"

String along with him, that's all, and be content to be his steady girl friend out of school. Lots of boys take their school work seriously, when they refuse to be serious over a girl. Your boy friend apparently wants to keep his mind on his work, and stay free to wander around as he wishes, spending what time he wants with the boys. If he buckled down to spending every free minute at school with you, walking with you in the halls, eating lunch with you, et cetera, he might feel swallowed up. He has you cubbyholed in his mind for dates and free time. If he doesn't want to mix you with his work, he won't.

But why break up with him over that? You know you're his girl. You know you're the only one he dates. Isn't that enough to keep you feeling wanted and necessary?

It's Being Wished on You
"DEAR MISS WOODWARD: I've recently met a boy from a neighboring school and he has asked me for several dates. I've accepted most of them, but I have never mentioned anything about my going out with other boys since I didn't think it necessary. I am very friendly and think this has led him to think I like him very much. On several occasions he has said 'If I ever caught you with another boy I don't know what I would do!' I have heard that he has told his friends we are going steady. As far as I'm concerned we're not. But I can't get myself to say anything to him, so I'm trying to discourage him by turning down his dates. Is there anything else I can do?"

Being elusive may make your point clear without saying anything definite. But should the opportunity come up, don't miss your chance to get the thing clear.

You might comment gaily some time that you have heard rumors to the effect that you're supposed to be going steady with him. You wonder how such a story could ever have been started (implying that it's not true). If he protests that it is true, remind him that he never asked you, you never agreed to any such arrangement, and you can't be held by promises you don't make. If he asks you outright then and there, you can admit that you do get out with other boys, and see no reason not to.

There's no point in having a steady deal wished on you without any agreement or cooperation on your part. Take the sting out of the news that he's not the only boy in your life by being particularly friendly and enthusiastic about the fun you have with him.

Your Birthday by STELLA

MONDAY, JANUARY 11 — Born today, there is considerable genius in your makeup. Original, inventive and with executive abilities, you are able to make long-term plans and then see that they are properly executed. You are happiest when working things out on a gigantic scale and dislike having to take care of detail work yourself. However, if that becomes necessary, you are thoroughly capable of doing it.

Careful in business matters, it is likely that you will accumulate considerable wealth during your lifetime. You have complete confidence in what you can do. You are inclined to rely a bit too much on force, rather than on diplomacy, but one of your energetic natures is thus inclined. Your ambitions are vaulting and you expect to reach the top of your profession as soon as possible. You cannot endure resistance to your plans or opposition to your ideas. It is likely that you would do well if you were to enter politics, although you could not be depended upon to be a party wheelhorse—you are far too much of an individualist. You may lead a party, but you will refuse to follow.

Your marriage should be a happy and prosperous one.

Solution Is Seen For Jet Transfer By Congressman

PHILADELPHIA, (INS) — Rep. William J. Green, Jr., (D) Philadelphia, said today he is confident that top government officials will give close scrutiny to the proposed move of the Westinghouse Jet Division plant from Lester, Pa., to Kansas City.

His statement followed a meeting in his Washington office Friday between ranking leaders of the Defense and Navy Departments and union and government officials from the Philadelphia area who are opposing the move.

"We definitely accomplished something at the meeting," Green said on his return to Philadelphia today. "Some of the government officials were unaware of all the aspects of the case, and we are able to give them information."

"We especially asked Arthur S. Fleming defense mobilizer how the proposed move affected President Eisenhower's plan of placing defense industries in areas of need, because the planned move here would displace some 2,500 workers."

The first force to reach George Washington after he assumed command at Cambridge, in 1775, was a company from York County, Pennsylvania, under Lieutenant Henry Miller, which had marched over five hundred miles.

SOLAR HEAT
MANHATTAN, Kas., — (INS) — Possibility of using solar heat to supplement heat pumps in providing year-round air conditioning for Kansas homes will be explored this year by the agricultural engineering department at Kansas State College. Funds for the project were approved at the annual business meeting of the Kansas Committee on the Relation of Electricity to Agriculture, an organization of power suppliers.

Hospital Happy; Has Brand New Gift Equipment

Major's Promise Kept By Modern Wheel Chair

Christmas came a little late to the Bristol General Hospital—but it finally got there.

The hospital now has a new, modern wheel chair, and it's the gift of Maj. Walter Tees, acting warden of Eastern State Penitentiary. Maj. Tees made good yesterday on his promise of about five months ago to buy a new chair for the hospital.

The major realized the hospital's need for the apparatus when he visited his six-year-old grandson, Frank E. Tees, Jr., about five months ago. Frank was hospitalized with a broken left arm at the time, and the major visited him during ceremonies at the hospital in September.

Used Old Chair

The youngster, who lives at 410 Girard avenue, Croydon, was wheeling himself around the corridors in an old wicker-type chair that, to Tees, appeared "completely out of line" with other pieces of modern equipment at the hospital.

On inquiring why the chair was still being used, Tees was told by Dr. Alma Des Morani, medical director of the hospital, that most of the available funds at the institution were needed for medical and operative equipment. That's why, the major was told, the chair was still in use.

When Frank recovered from his injury, suffered when he accidentally fell at his home, Maj. Tees got busy and started his search for the gift.

Welcome Equipment

Roger Harmon, administrator at the hospital, who jointly accepted the folding aluminum chair with Dr. Morani, called it a "welcome and much needed piece of equipment."

It appears, because of Maj. Tees' generosity, that things will be "rolling along smoothly" in the corridors of the Bristol General Hospital.

Widow Is Named To Vacancy As Justice of Peace

DOYLESTOWN—A Dublin woman whose husband was a candidate for the office of justice of the peace of that borough at the time of his death shortly before the last general election has been appointed to that office by Governor John S. Fine.

She is Mrs. Mary B. Summerfield (Rep.), of Middle Road, Dublin, whose appointment is effective immediately. The term will expire the first Monday in January, 1956.

Chief Clerk of the Bucks County Election Bureau Harold F. Hellyer, Sr., was notified of the appointment by Secretary of the Commonwealth Gene B. Smith.

Bucks County now has five women justices of the peace.

Mrs. Summerfield's husband, Albert B. Summerfield, died just before election but his name was carried on the ballot.

Communists Ask U. S. To Reopen Korea Peace Talks

See "UN Asked To Call Assembly"—Page Four

TOKYO — (INS) — The Communists today asked for a reopening of preliminary Korea peace talks.

Peiping radio said Red diplomats Ki Sok Bok of North Korea and Huang Hua of Red China sent a note to Kenneth Young, America's negotiator in Korea, proposing that the talks be resumed.

The note asked Young to send a liaison man to Panmunjom Wednesday to discuss a date for reopening the talks.

The United States representative, Arthur H. Dean, broke off the talks before Christmas when the Reds refused to apologize for a charge of "perfidy" against the United States.

The charge was made by the Reds at Panmunjom in connection with the release last summer before the armistice of some 27,000 anti-Red North Korean war prisoners. Republic of Korea guards freed the prisoners and the United States has denied any involvement.

Dean left Young, his chief assistant, in Korea to handle any further peace overtures by the Communists.

"Neutrality" Issue

The special U. S. ambassador who talked with the Reds for more than a month with the aim of setting up a time and a place for the final Korea peace conference said he would not resume the preliminary discussions until the Communists withdrew the "perfidy" charge and until they came up with a substantial and sincere proposal.

The Reds insisted that Russia be invited as a "neutral" but the United States insisted that if the Soviet Union was present it should take responsibility and vote as a belligerent in the Korean war with the Communist side.

DOCTOR GETS GRANT

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — A Philadelphia doctor was the recipient today of a $5,000 grant for completing research into the significance of nutrition and nutritional deficiencies in pregnancy.

The announcement was made by the National Vitamin Foundation, Inc., which awarded the grant to Dr. Winslow T. Tompkins, of the, lying-in department of the Pennsylvania hospital.

Levittown AJC Starts Campaign For Membership

Plans for an intensive membership campaign for Lower Bucks County and Levittown were laid at the Jan. 7 meeting of the Levittown Chapter of American Jewish Congress, according to Sherwin Ginsburg, president.

Dr. Boris Gutbezahl, of 27 Tamarack lane, was named chairman for the membership campaign, which terminates Feb. 15. Dr. Norman Berensin is chairman of the professional division. Other members of the committee include Sidney Borish, 56 Tapered Oak lane; Benjamin Dickstein, 210 Pine-wood drive; Ginsburg, who lives at 339 Elderberry lane; Harold Lockwood, 54 Flower lane; Dr. Frank Jacobson, 15 Cherry lane; and Nathan Matlin, 49 Evergreen lane.

Dr. Gutbezahl asked members of the community who wish to know more about the American Jewish Congress and its program to call him at Windsor 6-3131, or contact any member of the committee.

The next meeting of the group will be held on Jan. 21, at the home of Max M. Kleinbaum, 46 Tapered Oak lane. A social program to welcome new members of the community and members of the chapter will follow the business meeting. All interested members of the Levittown and Lower Bucks County area are invited to attend what promises to be a very informative and enjoyable evening.

A vital force in the defending of civil rights and civil liberties on local and national levels, American Jewish Congress also works for better living conditions for people of all faiths through its continuing educational program.

Reed Says Raise In Social Security Taxes Will Stand

Ike Is Expected To Ask Extension Of Coverage

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R) New York, of the House Ways and Means committee, made it plain today that the administration intends to retain the increase in social security taxes.

Reed and other congressional sources indicated strongly that the two per cent levy which went into effect Jan. 1 will not be repealed and that extended coverage will be sought next week.

President Eisenhower asked Congress last year to "freeze" the tax at one and one-half per cent on employers and employees. Congress, however, failed to act on his request.

The administration reportedly planned to ask the lawmakers to nullify the increase when the second session opened Jan. 6. But influential leaders have now received word that this proposal had been abandoned.

Reed declared that "in view of the comprehensive social security program which will be submitted shortly to the Congress, that the administration will not ask that the tax be 'frozen'."

Consequently, he added, there is "absolutely no possibility" that the tax rise will be repealed. Reed's committee initiates all legislation affecting social security.

The President will submit his social security program to Congress next week in a special message. He previously announced he favored including an additional 10 million workers in the program and boosting monthly benefits to beneficiaries.

The administration had earlier hoped to eliminate the increase, largely because it wiped out, in many instances, the 10 per cent individual income tax reduction which also went into effect Jan. 1.

Slash Costs In State, Road Builders Asked

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., — (INS) — Highway builders have been asked by Gov. John S. Fine to trim construction estimates to permit more road improvements. He also said extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike to Erie and Scranton will be pushed.

In a speech before the Associated Pennsylvania Contractors, Gov. Fine pointed out that Pennsylvania is spending 66 cents of every highway dollar for capital improvements.

"We must face the facts that your sense of public service in constructing public roads must be a particularly decisive factor in estimating costs for the consideration of responsible public officials," Fine said.

"The more mileage we can obtain for public funds, the greater the receptivity of our American people to developing that system of highways which shall spell both comfort and safety for the traveler, and effective transportation and communication outlets for our industry and business."

The governor said the Scranton extension will benefit the hard coal fields by advancing the "prospects for industrial expansion" and improving transportation facilities.

Plans for the Erie extension, the governor told the construction men, are being put into shape as quickly as possible.

60-MILE SPEED TESTED ON STRETCH OF U. S. 22

HARRISBURG — (INS) — A 60-mile an hour speed limit was put into effect Sunday on a 30-mile stretch of U. S. Route 22 east of Harrisburg.

The 10-mile an hour boost in speed on the four-lane divided highway was sanctioned by the State Highways Department which was authorized by the 1953 general assembly to experiment with the 60-mile an hour speed limit.

Highways Secretary E. L. Schmidt said the experiment would be broadened in the future to include other divided highways.

State Farm Show Gets Under Way; Expect 500,000

Exhibits To Show Progress Made In Rural Living

traction for thousands of Pennsylvania farmers this week is the annual State Farm Show, which opened today at Harrisburg.

Thousands of dirt and gentlemen farmers, and their city-slicker cousins, will roam the huge 13-acre exposition buildings during the 38th annual convention.

The Farm Show Commission estimates more than 500,000 people will visit the five-day show on the outskirts of Harrisburg.

Many Exhibits

The hundreds of commercial and agricultural exhibitions are allotted space to provide incentives for improving agriculture and farm living.

The theme is designed to inform the Pennsylvania farmer of the progress being made by his fellows as well as industry and research institutions, but it is the colorful exhibits that capture the interest of the non-farmer.

The farm show—billed by the commission as the largest mid-winter agricultural exposition of its kind in the United States—is a cross section of Pennsylvania agriculture.

Competition Limited

Farm show rules exclude from competition all non-residents of the state, except in the poultry division where some out-of-state entries are permitted.

A classroom atmosphere will prevail at 30 of the annual meetings of 30 statewide farm organizations. Most of the groups have selected agricultural experts to participate in panel discussions on farm problems.

"This year," said Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst, "the farm organizations are interested chiefly in marketing and promotion matters."

Displays of All Kinds

More than $5,000,000 worth of shiny farm machinery, prize livestock, poultry and crop exhibits, farm and home appliances and home economics displays are housed under the mammoth exposition roof.

Several thousand farmers will compete for more than $55,000 in cash premiums but more important than money to the winners is the knowledge that their entries were judged best in show.
